FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

Osborn's Broomate Offers Maximum Sweeping Power With Minimal Effort to Keep Work Areas Clean

Versatile Broomate ideal for clearing commercial, industrial and agricultural debris, rubbish, leaves, snow, standing water and industrial spills

CLEVELAND – May 2014 – Osborn offers Broomate, an industrial broom attachment for tractors, skid steers and forklift trucks that is designed for a wide variety of commercial, industrial and agricultural applications.

Available in three models, Megamate, Maximate and Midimate, Broomate provides maximum sweeping power with minimal maintenance. Broomate attachments are easy to clean and offer slide-in, slide-out bristle changing. Broomate was developed to incorporate the best design and materials for robust product construction.

Designed with a 5mm galvanized steel hood and linkages for fork tines, Broomate is a fast and effective tool for sweeping at construction sites, warehouses, factories, livestock yards, recycling depots, quarries and other industrial areas. The brooms are highly versatile and can be used to clear gravel, sand, mud, slurry, waste, foliage, light snow, standing water and industrial spillage.

"Broomate is a highly versatile tool that helps Osborn's customers keep their workplaces clear and safe," said Jeff Naymik, marketing manager at Osborn.

Broomate uses fork tines and heel chains for effective cleaning and brushing using existing equipment; it is intended for use with tractors, skid steers and forklift trucks.
